

Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela

Communiqué

The Government of the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela once again rejects the infamous, shameful and irrational accusation of the president of the United States of America against Venezuela of being an “unusual and extraordinary” threat to his country, in order to justify all sorts of aggressions and crimes against humanity, such as the unilateral coercive measures that Washington has been applying since 2015.

With a stroke, the supremacist government of the White House reiterates its intention to promote violence in Venezuela, to ignore its democratic institutions and the will of its people, to subjugate the entire Venezuelan people to any collective punishment a change of government favorable to their interests is achieved.

It is ironic that the United States accuses Venezuela of presenting a threat on the same day that the international courts announce that they will review the cases of torture and Human Rights violations illegally performed by U.S. authorities in Afghanistan, but it only shows the contempt of the authorities of that country for international law and national sovereignty.

Today, March 5th, 2020, on the seventh anniversary since the bid farewell of Commander Hugo Chávez and inspired by his legacy, the Venezuelan People reiterates its firm decision to continue walking the paths that have been taken by its participatory and leading democracy, no matter how many times the emperies of the world want to renew their threats and aggressions.
