

Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela

Communiqué

In response to the guidelines of President Nicolás Maduro, the People's Power Ministry for Foreign Relations is implementing measures to support the Venezuelans who have been left in a situation of distress outside national territory due to the contingency caused by Covid-19.

In this sense, it has requested to the U.S. authorities to allow a special flight of the airline Conviasa between the United States and Venezuela, in order to repatriate the Venezuelan citizens that require it.

In order to offer the best and most opportune support for their return flight they can access the web page: Attention System to Venezuelans in the U.S. <http://eeuu.embajada.gob.ve>, through which they can register by filling out the form for the processing of Return to the Homeland Plan – Covid-19 Contingency, submitting their return ticket, airline by which they returned, phone and e-mail contact, to make the respective compilation of cases.

Caracas, March 23, 2020