

Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela

Communiqué

Venezuela reminds the Caribbean Community of the unfortunate fate of Organizations erratically directed, such as the Organization of American States, which, under the influence of Luis Almagro, was turned into a dysfunctional and ideologized structure, with destructive objectives and servile to imperial interests.

The Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela calls on the CARICOM partner countries to return to good judgement and objectivity; to distance themselves from the preconceived judgments of the oil transnational Exxon Mobil and the United States Southern Command, in order to continue guaranteeing a history of cooperation, integration and peace in our region.

Venezuela's sun rises on the Essequibo!
